

Received by email

Many thanks for the opportunity to respond to the above consultation.

ACL is able support any dates determined by the consultation. ACL has previously shared possible concerns regarding about the earlier determination in relation to the wish list process but it's for the Airlines to express any concerns regarding data quality.

Should such concerns be raised, ACL would be willing to look at historic demand to help shape the wish list should it be necessary.