SOURCING OF AIRWORTHINESS DIRECTIVES

The attached schedule lists the current addresses of agencies responsible for the distribution of airworthiness directives (AD's) in the EASA, USA, UK, France, Germany etc.

Since EASA has taken over responsibility for the issue of AD's the Irish Aviation Authority has withdrawn the D Series Aeronautical Notices that previously provided information on mandatory airworthiness requirements relating to equipment that may be fitted to an aircraft.

Registered owners and operators of aircraft are required to make arrangements to ensure they are in receipt of or otherwise aware of mandatory requirements in respect of their aircraft as a legal condition of ownership or operation of those aircraft.

Chief Executive
Irish Aviation Authority
